a. UN Women Terms of Reference

1. Introduction

UN Women in Lebanon works across the humanitarian-development-peace and security nexus to support national efforts for the achievement of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda. To create an enabling environment for the realization of gender equality and women's empowerment, UN Women advocates and supports social mobilization for legislative reform, works with the Government of Lebanon and partners to build gender responsive institutions, and delivers essential services to women and girls in need, both host government nationals and refugees.

UN Women also works on Women's Political Participation in Lebanon through supporting women's candidacy, by providing technical assistance on issues of women's participation, by advocating for women's leadership, and in supporting legislative reforms to promote women as leaders in political and public life.

Although Lebanese women gained the right to vote in 1953, and despite a vibrant feminist movement, women remain under-represented in public and political life. The outgoing parliament of 2009 only had 4 women Members of Parliament (MPs) out of 128 parliamentarians, representing 3.1% of the total, and only 2 additional women were elected after the 2018 election, keeping Lebanon at one of the lowest representations across the MENA region globally. Despite this, the 2018 elections were marked by an unprecedented number of women candidates: 113 women submitted their candidacy, up from only 12 women candidates in 2009. Of these women, UN Women analysis has shown that they were on average more qualified than their male counterparts. Despite this interest and their qualifications, Lebanon's electoral system and socio-economic system and norms continues to create barriers to women's representation.

In October 2019, Lebanon has witnessed a popular uprising, which saw women at the core of the protests. In their calls for change, women, led political organization, the planning of marches and the generation of key protest messages. The protests have allowed women more space to engage in public life, and has created an opening for democratic change as well as, potentially, women's increased participation at the leadership and political levels. More recently, this has been tempered by the global outbreak of COVID-19, which threatens hard won gains on women's rights – by rolling back women's engagement in the economy and exacerbating gender-based violence.

To support women's political participation, UN Women Lebanon is seeking a partner to work on supporting gender responsive reform through building consensus between different stakeholders. Below is a more detailed description of the proposed activities and the aim of the project.

2. Description of required services/results

UN Women Lebanon Office welcomes proposals for partnerships to achieve results under the following project:

- Women's Political Participation – with a focus on promoting more women participation in the political and public life, including generating consensus among different stakeholders pertaining to legislative reforms in the electoral law and other laws.

Proposals should suggest interventions to achieve the following outcomes, outputs, activities, and indicators below, utilizing the approach recommended by the proponent. The call for proposal at hand embodies both the feminist and localization approach within the humanitarian-development peace and security nexus, which prioritizes and values a bottom-up vision to addressing complex problems in the field.

UN-Women is soliciting proposals from Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) – Lebanese. Women's organizations or entities are highly encouraged to apply. Private sector companies are not eligible to apply for this CFP.

Outcome 1. A common platform and advocacy position on gender-responsive electoral reform generates policy change for more representative politics

Output 1.1: Women are supported to improve their participation in politics through social mobilisation around gender-responsive electoral reform.

Activity:

- Consensus is built across actors and stakeholders in Lebanon on gender-responsive electoral reform, to drive forward common advocacy for more representative politics in Lebanon.

Activity description:

Activities aimed at promoting women participation in political and public life in Lebanon solicited under this call should include work to address gender shortcomings in the 2018 electoral law, and advancement/reforms to laws that support elections (campaign financing etc), which also hinder women's participation. The main objective behind this output would be to support coalition building and ensure consensus between different stakeholders and activists around gender responsive legislative reforms and a revised electoral framework.

To achieve this, selected proponents should:

- Identify legislative gaps, by analyzing all available and proposed electoral frameworks from a gender perspective - pulling on the wealth of literature generated to date, as well as analyze other policies and laws which limit women's participation (including those related to media engagement, campaign financing, minimum payments to run etc.).
- Summarise the policy options that have been offered to date through different papers and reports;
- Hold inclusive sessions with different stakeholders (including CSOs, political actors, UNDP, UNSCOL, political parties, and others) to generate recommendations and consensus around potential changes in the electoral framework.
- Linked to this, support a national coalition coordinated around a common call for change within the electoral framework – beginning with generating consensus between women's rights actors (CSOs and MPs, and other politicians), and then broadening out to create allies within the broader spectrum of stakeholders.

3. Timeframe: Start date and end date for completion of required services/results

April 20th, 2020 – December 31st, 2020

4. Competencies:

In the selection of partners, the following competencies will be considered:

- i. Soundness of technical competency described in the approach to the outcome/outputs as described in the Terms of Reference for the Call for Proposals.
- ii. Organisations with a track record of working on women's rights and gender equality and delivering results for women's rights.
- iii. Capacity to deliver expected results: governance and management competency, and financial and administrative competency.
- iv. Relevance of the mandate and the role of the organization to implement expected results and to contribute to the sustainability of said results.

Technical evaluators who are members of an Evaluation Committee appointed by UNWOMEN will carry out the technical evaluation applying the evaluation criteria and point ratings as listed below. In order to advance beyond Phase I of the detailed evaluation process to Phase II (financial evaluation) a proposal must have achieved a minimum cumulative technical score of 50 points.

1	Proposal is compliant with the Call for Proposal (CfP) requirements	15 points
2	The Organization's mandate is relevant to the work to be undertaken in the TORs (component 1)	20 points
3	The Proposal demonstrates a sound understanding of the requirements of the TOR and indicates that the organization has the prerequisite capacity to undertake the work successfully	35 points
	TOTAL	70 points

11.2 PHASE II - FINANCIAL PROPOSAL (30 points)

Financial proposals will be evaluated following completion of the technical evaluation. The proponent with the lowest evaluated cost will be awarded 30 points. Other financial proposals will receive pro-rated points based on the relationship of the proponents' prices to that of the lowest evaluated cost.

Formula for computing points:

Points = (A/B) Financial Points

Example: Proponent A's price is the lowest at $10.00. Proponent A receives 30 points. Proponent B's price is $20.00. Proponent B receives $($10.00/$20.00) \times 30$ points = 15 points

12. Preparation of proposal

12.1 You are expected to examine all terms and instructions included in the CFP documents.

Failure to provide all requested information will be at proponent's own risk and may result in rejection of proponent's proposal.

12.2 Proponent's proposal must be organized to follow the format of this CFP. Each proponent must respond to every stated request or requirement and indicate that proponent understands and confirms acceptance of UNWOMEN stated requirements. The proponent should identify any substantive assumption made in preparing its proposal. The deferral of a response to a question or issue to the contract negotiation stage is not acceptable. Any item not specifically addressed in the proponent's proposal will be deemed as accepted by the proponent. The terms "proponent" and "contractor" refer to those organizations that submit a proposal pursuant to this CFP.

12.3 Where the proponent is presented with a requirement or asked to use a specific approach, the proponent must not only state its acceptance, but also describe, where appropriate, how it intends to comply. Failure to provide an answer to an item will be considered an acceptance of the item. Where a descriptive response is requested, failure to provide the same will be viewed as non-responsive.

12.4 The terms of reference in this document provides a general overview of the current operation. If the proponent wishes to propose alternatives or equivalents, the proponent must demonstrate that any such proposed change is equivalent or superior to UNWOMEN established requirements. Acceptance of such changes is at the sole discretion of UNWOMEN.

12.5 Proposals must offer services for the total requirement, unless otherwise permitted in the CFP document. Proposals offering only part of the services may be rejected unless permitted otherwise in the CFP document.

12.6 Proponent's proposal shall include all of the following labelled annexes:

Incomplete or inadequate responses, lack of response or misrepresentation in responding to any questions will result in disqualification.

Component 1: Organizational Background and Capacity to implement activities to achieve planned results (max 1.5 pages)

This section should provide an overview with relevant annexes that clearly demonstrate that the proposing organization has the capacity and commitment to implement successfully the proposed activities and produce results. Key elements to be covered in this section include:

1. Nature of the proposing organization – Is it a community-based organization, national or sub-national NGO, research or training institution, etc.?
2. Overall mission, purpose, and core programmes/services of the organization
3. Target population groups (women, indigenous peoples, youth, etc.)
4. Organizational approach (philosophy) - how does the organization deliver its projects, e.g., gender-sensitive, rights-based, etc.
5. Length of existence and relevant experience
6. Overview of organizational capacity relevant to the proposed engagement with UN Women (e.g., technical, governance and management, and financial and administrative management)

Component 2: Expected Results and Indicators (max 1.5 pages)

This section should articulate the proponent's understanding of the UN Women Terms of Reference (TOR). It should contain a clear and specific statement of what the proposal will accomplish in relation to the UN Women TOR. This should include:

1. The problem statement or challenges to be addressed given the context described in the TOR.
2. The specific results expected (e.g., outputs) through engagement of the proponent. The expected results are the measurable changes which will have occurred by the end of the planned intervention. Propose specific and measurable indicators which will form the basis for monitoring and evaluation. These indicators will be refined and will form an important part of the agreement between the proposing organization and UNWOMEN.

Component 3: Description of the Technical Approach and Activities (max 2.5 pages)

This section should describe the technical approach and should be able to show the soundness and adequacy of the proposed approach, what will actually be done to produce the expected results in terms of activities. There should be a clear and direct linkage between the activities and the results at least at the output level. Specific strategies should also be described to support the achievement of results, such as building partnerships, etc.

Activity descriptions should be as specific as necessary, identifying what will be done, who will do it, when it will be done (beginning, duration, completion), and where it will be done. In describing the activities, an indication should be made regarding the organizations and individuals involved in or benefiting from the activity.

This narrative is to be complemented by a tabular presentation that will serve as Implementation Plan, as described in Component 4.

Component 4: Implementation Plan (max 1.5 pages)

This section is presented in tabular form and can be attached as an Annex. It should indicate the sequence of all major activities and timeframe (duration). Provide as much detail as necessary. The Implementation Plan should show a logical flow of activities. Please include in the Implementation Plan all required milestone reports and monitoring reviews.

Monitoring and Evaluation Plan (max. 1 page)

This section should contain an explanation of the plan for monitoring and evaluating the activities, both during its implementation (formative) and at completion (summative). Key elements to be included are:

- How the performance of the activities will be tracked in terms of achievement of the steps and milestones set forth in the Implementation Plan
- How any mid-course correction and adjustment of the design and plans will be facilitated on the basis of feedback received
- How the participation of community members in the monitoring and evaluation processes will be achieved

Component 5: Risks to Successful Implementation (1 page)

Identify and list any major risk factors that could result in the activities not producing the expected results. These should include both internal factors (for example, the technology involved fails to work as projected) and external factors (for example, significant currency fluctuations resulting into changes in the economics of the activity). Describe how such risks are to be mitigated.

Include in this section also the key assumptions on which the activity plan is based on. In this case, the assumptions are mostly related to external factors (for example, government environmental policy remaining stable) which are anticipated in planning, and on which the feasibility of the activities depend

Component 6: Results-Based Budget (max. 1.5 pages)

The development and management of a realistic budget is an important part of developing and implementing successful activities. Careful attention to issues of financial management and integrity will enhance the effectiveness and impact. The following important principles should be kept in mind in preparing a project budget:

- Include costs which relate to efficiently carrying out the activities and producing the results which are set forth in the proposal. Other associated costs should be funded from other sources. [SEP]

- The budget should be realistic. Find out what planned activities will actually cost, and do not assume that would cost less.
- The budget should include all costs associated with managing and administering the activity or results, particularly include the cost of monitoring and evaluation. [SEP]
- The budget could include “Support Costs”: those indirect costs that are incurred to operate the Partner as a whole or a segment thereof and that cannot be easily connected or traced to implementation of the Work, i.e., operating expenses, over-head costs and general costs connected to the normal functioning of an organization/business, such as cost for support staff, office space and equipment that are not Direct Costs.
- “Support Cost Rate” means the flat rate at which the Partner will be reimbursed by UN Women for its Support Costs, as set forth in the Partner Project Document and not exceeding a rate of 8% or the rate set forth in the Donor Specific Conditions, if that is lower. The flat rate is calculated on the eligible Direct Costs.
- The budget line items are general categories intended to assist in thinking through where money will be spent. If a planned expenditure does not appear to fit in any of the standard line item categories, list the item under other costs, and state what the money is to be used for. [SEP]
- The figures contained in the Budget Sheet should agree with those on the proposal header and text. [SEP]
